

Help Plan C&D World 2022

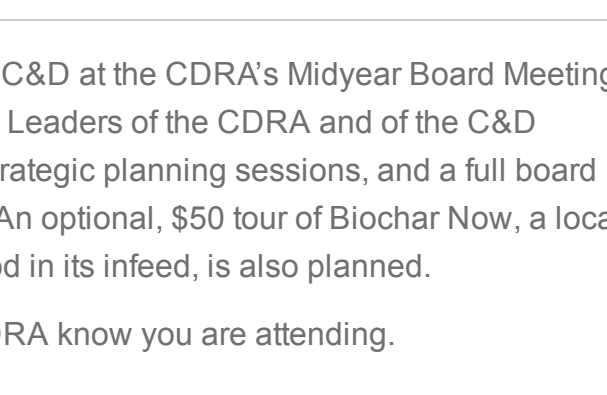

The CDRA's Annual Meeting – C&D World – will be held March 12-15, 2022, at the Loews Midtown in Atlanta, and will offer an optional tour of Luck Stone's recycling facilities. The CDRA Convention Committee is currently planning the meeting and could use your input. You can either join the committee or send us your ideas at info@cdrecycling.org.

C&D World is the place where handling and processing construction meets demolition materials. Attendees range from the top management of leading C&D hauling and recycling companies to individuals just starting out in the business and the vendors that serve this market. As always, a deep educational schedule is planned, and there are several opportunities for networking at the breaks and receptions. C&D World will again have an intimate exhibit floor where the latest equipment and services will be on display. Sponsorship and exhibit opportunities will be announced soon. If you have questions, please contact William Turley at turley@cdrecycling.org.

Catch Up on the C&D Industry at the CDRA's Midyear Meeting

Get the latest info on what is going on in C&D at the CDRA's Midyear Board Meeting, Sept. 27-28 at the Rally Hotel in Denver. Leaders of the CDRA and of the C&D industry will hold committee meetings, strategic planning sessions, and a full board meeting where all members can attend. An optional, $50 tour of Biochar Now, a local biochar producer that includes C&D wood in its feed, is also planned.

Email info@cdrecycling.org to let the CDRA know you are attending.

State and National Leaders to Discuss How New EJ Bill Sets Up Sweeping Nationwide Changes

A pioneering environmental justice law, which may serve as a framework for a national drive for environmental justice, will be the topic of an online panel discussion on Thursday, Sept. 2, from 10 a.m. to noon ET. The event is open to professionals in the field as well as the public.

The Zoom session, titled "New Jersey's Environmental Justice Law as a Potential National Model," is cosponsored by Enviro-Sciences (of Delaware), Inc., a multi-media international environmental consulting firm, and the National Association of Environmental Professionals (NAEP), an interdisciplinary organization dedicated to developing the highest standards of ethics and proficiency in the environmental professions.

During the two-hour panel discussion, national and state leaders dealing with this issue will examine the current environmental justice landscape, where the environmental justice movement will be five to 10 years from now, and if the New Jersey model - considered by many as the "gold standard" - can work nationally.

NRC Restarting National Meeting

Taking Place Nov. 3-4, 2021

After a 12-year hiatus from organizing the premier national recycling conference, the National Recycling Coalition (NRC) will present the 2021 National Recycling Congress. The two-day virtual event will feature engaging sessions on waste reduction, reuse, repair, recycling, composting and sustainable materials management, as well as circular economy experts and program implementers. The CDRA is proud to serve as a collaborating organization.

The conference will also include meaningful, interactive networking sessions to keep attendees feeling close despite the distance. We encourage all CDRA members to attend, build professional contacts, gain new knowledge, and realize the benefits of virtual networking.
