

MARCH 14-18 / 2023 / LAS VEGAS / NEVADA

Best Practices in Safety Awards Nominations are Open!

As 2022 comes to an end it's a great time to reflect on accomplishments and make plans for the new year. Why not make a CDRA Safety Award part of that process?

We invite our members to continuously improve on their safety policies, practices, and communications. Each year we ask members to complete a Safety Awards application to assess their own safety program. There is no charge for the application process. We hope our members will use this not only as recognition but also as a tool for continuous improvement. We've added a fleet management category this year. The added safety criteria for best practices add another perspective when self-evaluating your operation.

Applications are due back before January 13, 2023. The link to our 2022 Safety Awards application is below.

Gypsum Recycling Committee Update

Our Gypsum Recycling Committee has been busy! If you haven't heard, the University of Florida recently completed "The Best Management Practices for Recycling of Gypsum Waste from Deconstruction to Manufacturing" white paper. This report is in the final review stages and will be available to CDRA members soon. And, next on their list is a committee review of the "WARM Summary and Possible Alternatives Report to Estimate GHG Emissions," also developed by the University of Florida team. This, too, will be available to CDRA members once it is finalized.
