

C&D World 2022 Success

"What a great show!" was the consensus from attendees at C&D World 2022, the Annual Meeting of the CDRA held March 12-15 in Atlanta. From the well-attended committee meetings on March 12—a Saturday, no less—to a sold-out tour on March 15 hosted by the gracious team at Luck Stone, there were nothing but high points for the 29th C&D World.

Attendance returned to pre-pandemic levels, proving that C&D leaders were ready to get together and discuss the issues facing the industry. Presenters covered the gauntlet from an economic forecast to operations at mixed C&D recycling plants. And attendees were able to interact and learn from each other, just as the conference was originally designed to do.

We also want to thank the sponsors of the event: Komptech Americas and Plexus Recycling Technologies, CDE, Sparta, General Kinematics, Torxx, Eagle Crusher, VAN DYK Recycling Solutions, Starlight Software, Amp Robotics, Recycling Today Media Group, Untha, Sennebogen, Fire Rover, Machinex, and GreenWaste.

Be sure to save the date for C&D World 2023, taking place March 14-15 in Las Vegas alongside ConExpo-Con/Agg.

Industry News

There is a new database designed to help consumers determine what can be recycled in their waste stream, based on regional recycling programs. Please note that it doesn't include C&D yet.

EPA Region 5 has expanded its disaster debris disposal map to most of the country. Originally set up to help the Midwest in case of a disaster, the site also lists C&D landfills around the country. How accurate and up to date it could be is questionable, but it would be a great start for anyone interested in this subject.
